Living Campaign Document

Sessions 1–11 · The Muryland Conspiracy

Current State of Play

! Last played: Session 11 (June 8, 2026). The party is split. Raven, Ignael, and Kaelen followed Lady Ruth into Wafeld. The others are in the abandoned district with the Beast. Lady Ruth is now dead and in Raven's bag of holding.

Where everyone is right now

- Raven, Ignael, Kaelen — Wafeld, abandoned district building with Corvin, Dogmeat, Nyx (escaped), and Lady Ruth's body
- Raelys, Idaho, Gil — Same building (session ended reunited after Lady Ruth fight)
- The Beast — In the building, charmed for 24 hours
- Dogmeat — With Kaelen. Knows something. The dog whispered something privately to Kaelen.
- At the Castle: Baron Edmund, Pinna, Fiona, Faevra, Chester, 007 James, Peliton (prisoner), Corvin (if taken there), Tater T'Ot, Asteron
- Missing from Castle: Pog, Vulcan, Zandwyn — disappeared, connected to Oli's rogue arc

The God Vessel — party's current possession

The party holds the God Vessel. It has vibrated faintly in proximity to Ignael. No one has connected this to his blood yet.

Most pressing clocks

- Korvin: 2-3 days of suppression potions remaining before his condition deteriorates
- Lady Ruth: Gentle Repose active — 10-day window for Revivify. She was beginning to waver in her convictions before she died.
- The Beast: Charmed for 24 hours — what happens when it wears off?

Component Tracker

Component	Location	PC Link	Current Status Notes
The God Vessel	Party holds it	Ignael	Confirmed in party's possession. Vibrates faintly near Ignael. He doesn't know why yet.
True Primordial Dragon Blood	In Ignael's veins	Ignael	Ignael killed most of the Dragonmaw Clan — he IS the last viable source. Must be alive when used.
Coccineum	Myrkul's corpse, Astral Plane	Raven / Idaho	Raven must face her (brother) the Avatar. Idaho must forge extraction tools first.
Amulet of the Midnight Bloom	Order of the Chains	Raelys	Stolen from Raelys by the Order (who didn't know her mother had a child). Raelys doesn't know who took it.
Amulet of the Crimson Lily	Gil's mother (Order member)	Gil	Gil doesn't know his mother is in the Order or holds this. Their reunion will be a lot.

Open Threads & DM Hooks

Priority	Thread	Details
URGENT	Korvin's cure	Korvin has 2-3 days of suppression potions left. After that his condition deteriorates. The party took him to the castle — the clock is running.
URGENT	Lady Ruth — 10 days	Under Gentle Repose in Raven's bag. Revivify window is open. The party may want her alive (she was starting to turn). 10-day hard deadline.
URGENT	Hollow Forge	The Harper agent's notes confirm the Butcherer operates below Wafeld Castle. The beast convoy was headed there. This is the next major location.
ACTIVE	Kaelen & the Armor	Panzuriel is now watching through the armor. Each black iron addition deepens the bond. The armor whispers, never commands. Kaelen doesn't fully realize how deep it goes.
ACTIVE	Saxton & Wafeld	Lord Saxton is in Wafeld castle. Three sources now point there: Nyx, the Harper notes, Peliton. The party is effectively moving on the capital.
ACTIVE	Ignael's blood	His blood ran hot when near the God Vessel. The Dragonmaw guilt + the divine blood link has not been surfaced to him. The Devil tarot card is affecting his actions.
ACTIVE	Raven's visions	Gold fractals, dragons, celestial machinery. The artifact whispered to her. Primus's resonance is reaching her through the God Vessel.
ACTIVE	Pog / Vulcan / Zandwyn missing	Three party-adjacent figures disappeared from the castle. Likely connected to Oli's background/rogue arc. The party voted to pursue this.
ACTIVE	007's hang-up	James Bond hung up mid-call for 'unknown reasons.' Something happened at the castle. The party doesn't know what.
ACTIVE	Dogmeat's secret	Kaelen was pulled to a private VC. The dog whispered

ACTIVE	Dream sequences (Kuba)	something to him. This is unrevealed to the rest of the party. Igneel's dream arc. Dragon roar in his sleep. Dragonmaw bloodline awakening. DM-paced.
ACTIVE	Gil & Quinlan private call	Quinlan specifically asked to speak with Gil alone. Has not happened yet.
SIMMERING	Primus's automatons	Still searching for the Crimson Lily and monitoring Ignael's region. Not yet in direct contact with the party. Getting closer.
SIMMERING	The Order of the Chains	The party knows they exist and have one component. The Order stole Raelys's amulet. First contact has not happened.
SIMMERING	Raven's brother	Now the Avatar of Myrkul. Guarding the corpse in the Astral Plane. Raven thinks he's dead. He is not.
SIMMERING	The Confession of St. Gaed	Idaho now wears the Armor of St. Gaed the Confessor. Lady Ruth recognized it and connected it to Peliton's disappearance/the castle. The armor has significance beyond the dungeon reward.
SIMMERING	Nyrisa's frog	A group was worshipping Alex's frog in the forest. Alex is apparently already a lord. Divine threads are touching everything.

Session Recaps

A complete record of all sessions played, with DM notes on what matters going forward.

SESSION 1–3 · The Delian Tomb & Silks and Shadows

Vallene → Swanford → Duke Ryomen's Ball

What Happened

- Five strangers (Raven, Kaelen, Idaho, Raelys, Gil) met in Vallene responding to a missing person — a blacksmith's daughter taken by goblins.
- Fought through an ancient tomb. Rescued Bess and Fiona. Slew Grush the Bugbear and a goblin shaman.
- Discovered a hidden chamber — remnants of the Delian Order. Lord Delius judged them worthy and entrusted them with a blade of legacy.
- Met Duke Ryomen. Mechanical assassins attacked the manor — one cried out like it was alive. First hint of Primus's automaton presence bleeding into the world.
- Duke's ball: Gil charmed Fiona. Ignael joined the party. A pink-haired elf (Faevra) stole the Duke's locket and knocked Raelys unconscious.
- Tracked Faevra to Swanford. She revealed the locket was sold to bandits. Struck a deal: kill the bandits, she helps.
- Bandits fell. Locket changed hands again — sold to 'The Butcherer.' A drone executed the bandit leader. Someone was watching.

What This Established

- The party is being watched. The automaton presence is real and active.
- Ignael joins as the party's newest member — his blood is already the key component and he doesn't know it.
- Faevra is now at the castle. Complex loyalty but not an enemy.

DM ONLY The 'mechanical rogue that cried out like it was alive' is an early Primus automaton. Its distress call was a residual function from when it was partially human — one of the Butcherer's earlier experiments sent to Primus's pipeline.

SESSION 4–5 · The Muryland Device Revealed & The Lab

Arrival of the truth — Duke's manor → Llandy

What Happened

- The party learned: the artifact they carry is part of the Muryland Device. The Order of the Chains seeks to destroy it. Bounties placed on the party.
- D. Jeani, a djinn, emerged from Gil's trombone. Agenda still completely unknown.
- Raven experienced cosmic hallucinations: gold fractals, dragons, celestial machinery — Primus's resonance reaching her through the God Vessel.
- Investigated an abandoned house in Llandy. Found a hidden lab: necromancy meets machine. Corpses converted to proto-automatons. Notes linking experiments to Wafeld and Aethelguard.
- Encountered a suffering human-machine hybrid in the lab who begged for death and reacted strangely to the God Vessel Raven carried.
- Loot: Ignael's Daern's Instant Fortress, Raven's Horn of Blasting, Idaho's wand. Gil wished a pig back to life. His name is Tater T'Ot.

What This Established

- The Butcherer is not just experimenting — he is evolving something. The experiments in Llandy were early-stage. Hollow Forge is where the real work happens.
- The God Vessel reacts to things. The hybrid reacted to it. Raven's visions are resonance bleed from Primus.

DM ONLY The 'gold fractals and celestial machinery' in Raven's visions are Primus's domain architecture. He is aware the God Vessel is active in the mortal plane and is tracking it through the resonance. Raven is effectively a divine signal beacon.

DM ONLY D. Jeani's agenda: TBD for DM. Suggest tying to Nyrrissa — a djinn in service of fate, placed near Gil specifically to ensure the Crimson Lily thread comes together at the right moment.

SESSION 6 · The Wizard of Gravesford & The Confession

What Happened

- En route to Gravesford, party acquired Pog (goblin, turned into a cat). Raven isolated herself. Ignael and Gil tension.
- Gravesford: Pinna (wizard) under orc attack. Raven saved her with illusion magic without a fight.
- Orcs were organized. At Castle Rend, the party negotiated: Kaelen traded a jade ring as a bluffed artifact. Orcs withdrew.
- Beneath Castle Rend: wraiths of Saint Gaed the Confessor demanded confessions. One by one the party confessed. Ignael's confession — the slaughter of the Dragonmaw Clan — satisfied the saint.
- Spirits laid to rest. Party rewarded with powerful relics, including the Armor of St. Gaed the Confessor (now worn by Idaho).
- A member of The Clock (thieves guild) warned them: Sir Peliton is returning with an army. Siege in one week. The party now owns Castle Rend.

What This Established

- Ignael publicly confessed the Dragonmaw slaughter. Everyone at the table now knows. The character hasn't yet connected this to the blood in his veins.
- Idaho's armor (St. Gaed the Confessor) will be recognized — Lady Ruth recognized it in Session 11. It's a thread.
- Castle Rend is the party's home base. Currently staffed by Pinna, Baron Edmund, Fiona, Faevra, Chester, 007, Peliton (prisoner), Tater T'Ot.

DM ONLY The Armor of St. Gaed resonates with divine truth — the same domain as St. Gaed's ascension to godhood. While wearing it, Idaho has subtle advantage on detecting lies. He may not realize this is the armor doing it. More properties can be revealed as his arc develops.

SESSION 7–8 · Peliton Captured & The Armor Binds

Castle Rend — aftermath of the siege

What Happened

- Party teleported back to the castle during the siege. A mage held Peliton at the ready — the party threatened her, she stepped away and vanished in black smoke.
- Gil stripped and interrogated Peliton in a manner that will not be repeated here in clinical detail but was extremely Gil. Peliton revealed: Lord Saxton is in Wafeld; the Knights of the 3 Roses are Lady Ruth and Sir Anglin; they rarely communicate and get orders from Saxton.
- Idaho inspected Peliton's armor. Arcane check: same effect as the black tendrils that held the party at the pub.
- Kaelen touched and equipped the dark armor. Pulled to a private DM conversation.

- KAELEN NOW WEARS PANZURIEL'S ARMOR. The armor bound to him. Panzuriel has found his vessel.
- Ignael felt his blood running hot. Locked himself in a side room.
- Pog, Vulcan, and Zandwyn (other) went missing from the castle.

What This Established

- The armor's binding is permanent until Sehanine intervenes or Kaelen confronts Panzuriel directly.
- The mage who accompanied Peliton is unaccounted for. She escaped. She knows the party's faces, location, and capabilities.

DM ONLY The mage works for the Butcherer, not Saxton directly. She was testing the party. Her assessment: interesting, dangerous, and useful. She reported back to Hollow Forge.

DM ONLY Ignael locking himself in a room with his blood running hot: this is the Primordial blood activating in proximity to the God Vessel. A dragon roar in his dreams that night is Asgorath noticing the last trace of her original creation is still alive. She has not intervened. She is watching.

! Panzuriel can now see through Kaelen's armor. He knows where the party is, what they're feeling, and what the God Vessel is doing at all times Kaelen is near it.

SESSION 9 · Wafeld — Markets, The Casino, and Blood and Ale

Wafeld city — intelligence gathering

What Happened

- Party split in Wafeld: Raven/Ignael/Idaho went to the port. Raelys/Kaelen/Gil hit the market.
- Raelys released a monster from the circus to cause chaos for a fletcher's arrowhead deal. Elegant.
- Ship prices: 10,000–15,000 gold. Party passed.
- Kaelen found a casino lead. Party (minus Kaelen who was absent) played blackjack. Gil and Ignael won big at Kraut and got kicked out.
- Magic shop chaos: Raven bought a Stone of Returning and an all-or-nothing coin. The shopkeeper drank a suspect potion and attacked Gil. He escaped into a bag then re-emerged wearing demon armor. Brief combat — he ran.
- Blood and Ale Tavern: The party waited out the mass at the church, went behind to find Zandwyn jumping into a well, followed him, were caught in a net and chloroformed.

What This Established

- Zandwyn orchestrated the capture. He wants the party to break into a Wafeld fort. This is how the Blackreach thread begins.
- The fortune readings: Raven=Wheel of Fortune, Kaelen=Death, Gil=Death, Raelys=The Lovers, Idaho=The Fool, Ignael=THE DEVIL.

DM ONLY The Devil card on Ignael is mechanically active: DM randomly calls for a d20 to potentially compel actions. This maps directly to the Primordial blood awakening. The compulsions are Asgorath's bloodline instincts surfacing — not evil, but draconic, impulsive, powerful.

SESSION 10 • Fort Blackreach

The fortress on the jagged rocks — the arena, the hatch, the beast

What Happened

- Zandwyn's deal: infiltrate Fort Blackreach, retrieve names and shipping routes, destroy the fort. 2 healing potions each.
- Fort on jagged rocks, dying forest, no guards at front. Inside: an arena. A Dark Metal Knight fighting prisoners. He decapitated a man and the flesh melted off the skull.
- The Dark Metal Knight looked at Kaelen and the armor pulled at him. Kaelen barely resisted the whispers.
- Raven threw the Horn of Blasting at a table of bandits. One blew it toward the others. Two died from concussion. The fort went on high alert.
- Raven shattered guards from the roof. Ignael and Kaelen entered the captain's room: found trade route maps and a secret hatch (Ignael: Nat 20).
- Below the hatch: an experimented-on soldier and his dog (Dogmeat). Kaelen gave the soldier a potion. Raven held the God Vessel near them — it vibrated.
- Navigated past the Dark Metal Knight with bluffing and a Minor Illusion of the captain.
- The horse in the arena was a trap. Ignael activated his fortress. The horse exploded.
- Ignael was overcome by The Devil card — saw Gil as the Beast and attacked him, leaving him at 1 HP.
- The party charmed the Beast for 24 hours. Raven cast Beast Bond.
- Lady Ruth arrived: 'I need you two to come with me.' Raven and Ignael followed willingly.
- Kaelen was drawn to the Dark Metal Knight's armor. When he came to, black iron had integrated into his own armor.

What This Established

- The Panzurite absorption is progressing. Kaelen absorbed the knight's armor material into his own. The bond is deepening.
- The God Vessel vibrated near the modified soldier — the man's body contains traces of Primus's resonance from the Butcherer's experiments. The device can sense it.

DM ONLY The Dark Metal Knight was a Primus prototype — not fully an automaton yet, but close. The Butcherer is building toward Primus's spec, possibly under contract or divine compulsion he doesn't understand. 'Hollow Forge' is the real production line.

SESSION 11 • Korvin, the Convoy, and Lady Ruth

Wafeld — the abandoned district • June 8, 2026

What Happened

- Party woke at the inn. Dogmeat was staring at the door.
- Received help from Crow (turned out to be Nyx Virelle): disguises, lockpicks, convoy routes.
- Dogmeat bolted to Simplheath (abandoned district). Found a smuggler's warehouse. Raven found the wafeld shipment map — parade route changed, additional guards, castle entrance confirmed for tonight.
- Idaho found a comically large fish.
- Found Korvin's journals: 'the treatments worked, the strength stayed, the voices didn't... the forge is where they make the real ones.'
- Igneel punched Korvin unconscious on entry. Idaho healed him. They talked. Korvin: half his body was crushed, signed up for a 'recovery program,' most subjects failed or broke. He thinks he wasn't meant to survive. His dog (Dogmeat) was placed there with him.
- Korvin confirmed: the convoy isn't supplies. It's a containment move — moving 'the Beast', an unholy abomination. He has 2-3 days of suppression potions left.
- Fortune telling, circus downtime. A guard almost recognized Igneel as 'Red.'
- Convoy interception: barrels on road, Igneel's fortress deployed as a blockade. The disguises worked. Engine explosion triggered by The Devil card compelling Igneel to press a red button. Beast retrieved and charmed.
- Igneel attacked Gil from the Devil compulsion, leaving him at 1 HP.
- Raven and Igneel met Lady Ruth. She led them to the castle. The party followed. Lady Ruth interrogated the group.
- Lady Ruth recognized Idaho's Armor of St. Gaed, connected it to Peliton/the castle, began piecing it all together. She mentioned Kaelen's expulsion — the burning of Oakhaven — and that the power void caused Aethelguard to fall into chaos.
- Raven cast Elsewhere, caging Lady Ruth. Combat began. Idaho missed. Kaelen (overtaken by armor) cut off her legs. Igneel knocked her unconscious. She died.
- Idaho cast Gentle Repose (10-day window). Raelys looted the Rose Rapier. Gil found a notebook, a folded note, and a heavy insignia pin.
- Raven tucked Lady Ruth's body in the bag of holding. Took Korvin, Dogmeat, the Beast, and Lady Ruth's horse (Asteron) back toward the castle by carriage.
- Bridge troll. Three riddles answered correctly (cold, envelope, grief). Troll quit and gave Idaho his hat.
- In the forest: a group worshipping Alex's frog on a stump.

Key Reveals This Session

- Kaelen burned Oakhaven — this is his backstory action. Lady Ruth revealed that this caused a power vacuum, and Aethelguard collapsed into chaos. Kaelen is now fully aware of the consequence of his 'just act.'
- Lady Ruth was beginning to question Saxton before she died. She was the most morally complex of the 3 Roses and could have been turned. The Gentle Repose window keeps this possibility technically alive.

- Nyx Virelle = Crow. She's been playing a deeper information game than the party realized.
- Hollow Forge is confirmed below Wafeld castle. This is the Butcherer's real operation.

DM ONLY Lady Ruth's notebook and folded note: The notebook contains internal communications between the 3 Roses — references to Saxton's orders, the Butcherer's project, and the name 'Primus Protocol.' The folded note is a personal letter she was writing to Sir Anglin and never sent, expressing doubts about Saxton's direction. This is a characterization gift and potentially a way to find Anglin.

DM ONLY The insignia pin is from the Order of the Chains. Lady Ruth did not know she was carrying it. It was planted on her by an Order operative who was tracking the party's route. The Order is closer than the party thinks.

Kaelen & Panzuriel's Armor — DM Reference

! This section tracks the armor's progression and what Panzuriel currently knows through it. Update after each session.

Current Armor State

- Original Peliton armor: equipped at Castle Rend (Session 7)
- Dark Metal Knight's black iron absorbed into the armor: Fort Blackreach (Session 10)
- Each addition deepens the resonance bond. Panzuriel's presence is stronger than when the armor first bonded.

What Panzuriel Knows (Through Kaelen)

- The God Vessel's location — wherever Kaelen is near it
- The party's general emotional state — he can feel what Kaelen feels
- Lady Ruth is dead — he witnessed the fight through Kaelen
- Korvin exists and has information about Hollow Forge
- The party is planning to move on Wafeld castle

How the Whispers Work — Guidelines for the DM

The armor never lies. It only reframes. Every suggestion is based on accurate information — the threat is real, the injustice is real, the person is genuinely suspicious. Panzuriel's corruption is in the urgency and the proposed response, not the facts.

- Early stage (current): Subtle pulls toward aggression. Worst-case interpretations of ambiguous situations feel more obvious to Kaelen than they should.

- Mid stage: Kaelen acts and is briefly uncertain whether the choice was his. The armor suggests things before Kaelen consciously thinks them.
- Late stage: Moments where Kaelen does something and cannot remember deciding to do it. The armor is completing actions for him in moments of extreme stress.

Oakhaven — Kaelen's Key Vulnerability

The specific act that got Kaelen expelled — burning Oakhaven — maps exactly to the kinds of actions the armor will push him toward. He believed he was right. He still believes he was right. The armor knows this, and Panzuriel considers it the master key.

DM ONLY The armor will at some point suggest something that is structurally identical to Oakhaven — a situation where destroying something seems like the only just option and collateral damage seems acceptable. If Kaelen does it, the bond locks in permanently. If he refuses, it's the first crack the party can exploit.

DM ONLY Sehanine Moonbow has been tracking the armor. She cannot remove it remotely, but she can reach Kaelen through dreams — the same silver roads she sends to the Midnight Bloom's guardian. She has sent Kaelen one dream so far. He may not remember it.

Locations of Record

Castle Rend — Party's Home Base

Taken from the orcs in Session 6. Currently staffed by: Baron Edmund Bedegar, Pinna (wizard, on guard duty), Fiona, Faevra, Chester (Igneel's companion), 007 James (Gil's minion), Sir Peliton (prisoner, basement), Tater T'Ot (pig), Asteron (Lady Ruth's horse). Pog, Vulcan, and Zandwyn (other) are missing from here.

Wafeld — Current Location

Lord Saxton's seat of power. The party is operating covertly here. Fort Blackreach (destroyed by party) was on the outskirts. The castle itself is the next major target.

- Hollow Forge: confirmed by Harper agent's notes to be beneath Wafeld castle. The Butcherer's real operation. This is where the real automatons are being made.
- Blood and Ale Tavern: neutral ground used by multiple factions. Nyx Virelle operates from here.
- Simplheath: abandoned district. Party used it as a staging area. Korvin's warehouse base.

The Astral Plane — Future Location

Where Myrkul's corpse drifts. Vast, fossilizing, slowly becoming something between flesh and stone. The Avatar of Myrkul (Raven's brother) circles it on a ship of bones. The Coccineum is here. Raven does not know her brother is here — she thinks he's dead.

Khaz-Durak — Idaho's Homeland

Not yet visited. A land of legendary dwarven forgers. Idaho's family line developed divine-metal smithing techniques across generations — they didn't know why they worked. The tools to extract Coccineum from Myrkul's corpse must be forged here, or with materials and techniques from here.

DM Notes — Threads to Weave

The Lady Ruth Question

She's in the bag of holding. 10 days. The party hasn't discussed whether to revive her. She was questioning Saxton before she died. Her notebook has internal 3 Roses correspondence. She knows where Sir Anglin is. She knows what the Primus Protocol is. Reviving her gives the party an enemy who might become the most valuable ally they have — someone inside Saxton's structure who is already disillusioned.

DM ONLY If the party revives Lady Ruth: she wakes up, processes dying, and does not immediately attack. She is pragmatic. She wants to understand what she's dealing with. The letter she was writing to Anglin is in her notebook — if Gil found it, the party can use it. She will not betray Saxton immediately, but she will negotiate. Kaelen's Oakhaven conversation — she brought it up in the most complicated possible way — is unfinished.

Ignael's Blood — The Slow Reveal

He confessed the Dragonmaw slaughter publicly. He felt his blood run hot near the God Vessel. A dragon roared in his dream. The pieces are there. The reveal should land when the party needs the blood — when they finally understand what the Device requires, and Ignael realizes that he is the last component, and that his slaughter of the Dragonmaw makes him simultaneously the cause and the only solution.

Nyrissa's Frog

A group was worshipping Alex's frog in the forest. Alex is already a lord. Nyrissa's threads run through everything. The frog is not a joke — or rather, it is, and also it isn't. Nyrissa works through coincidence and the apparently absurd. The frog is watching.

"I wanted one night of knowing it could still be stopped." — Seren Vael, the night before the activation
